read letters, cards and notes from 50 years or correspondence, sharing their hopes and ambitions,
dreams and disappointments, victories and defeats

...all that has passed between them throughout their entangled, but separate, lives.

Love Letters* was a finalist for the Pulitzer Prize for Drama in 1990.

The piece is comprised of letters exchanged over a lifetime between two people who grew up together, went their separate ways, but continued to share confidences. As the letters are read aloud, they create an amusing and evocative pair of character studies; what is implied is as revealing as what is written down. It becomes eloquently clear how much Melissa and Andy meant to each other over the years... physically apart, perhaps, but spiritually as close as only true lovers can be.
